

Ark Soane Academy

Opening
2021

Executive Principal's Welcome

.....

Welcome to Ark Soane Academy, a new, non-selective secondary school opening in Ealing in September 2021.

Ark has opened four new schools in North London in the last ten years (King Solomon Academy, Ark Academy, Ark Isaac Newton Academy and Ark John Keats Academy) and all have been judged Outstanding by Ofsted.

Ark Soane aims to continue with this tradition, and like all Ark schools is formed around six core ideas:

- Excellent behaviour
- A curriculum that enables student mastery of learning so all students can achieve exceptional results
- High quality teaching
- Development of student character and forming strong habits
- Raising student aspirations so they seek to achieve to their fullest potential
- Developing our teachers to become leaders in education.

Ark Soane Academy will be a school where children are supported by dedicated, caring adults to fulfil their potential. A challenging curriculum, well taught, with teachers who are curriculum experts and know students' individual strengths and areas for development, will ensure children leave Soane qualified to enter the best universities, or pursue their careers of choice.

We believe in the limitless potential of children and their power to shape their futures. Our curriculum will provide a solid foundation to develop students' knowledge and provoke their curiosity and interest in further study. A programme of enrichment built into our longer school day will enable all pupils to broaden their horizons and discover their passions.

The learning environment at Ark Soane Academy will be calm and purposeful; a place where pupils develop habits for success and become kind, caring individuals who are self-motivated, self-disciplined, driven to excel, and keen to help others succeed. We will expect all pupils to work hard and behave impeccably to maximise their time for learning.

Our founding cohort of 180 year 7 students will benefit from being the only year group in our first year, and have the opportunity to build something unique and lasting in Ealing. If the idea of a school with high standards of behaviour and a challenging academic curriculum to enable all students to excel appeals to you, please come along to our open events to find out more.

Peter Haylock,
*Executive Principal,
Ark Soane Academy*

Vision

.....

We have a very clear vision for Ark Soane. We will have the highest expectations of students both academically and in terms of their conduct. We will uphold these high standards with love and care. Student behaviour must be impeccable, so teachers can teach effectively and with energy. A rigorous curriculum full of cultural capital will ensure all children can achieve their full academic potential. All adults will expect all children to be able to achieve top grades in external examinations, regardless of their starting points, and will work “smart” and efficiently to ensure they do. Along with academic success, Soane pupils will become kind individuals, who wish to improve the world around them, and who take full responsibility for their choices, recognising that only their choices can change their futures.
